

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Patients with symptomatic HIV infection, including AIDS and ARC are treated to increase appetite and to cause a 5 reduction in loss of weight. The delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol may be administered orally, in capsules, or in tablets, or by injection, suppository, intranasal, transdermal, inhalant or sublingual administration.